HAMILTON FRASER INSURANCE
ATTENDS INTERNATIONAL ACADEMY OF ADVANCED FACIAL AESTHETICS
(IAAFA) CONFERENCE 2009

Hamilton Fraser Insurance is attending the annual International Academy of Advanced Facial Aesthetics (IAAFA) conference at the Royal College of Medicine. The event, which takes place on Friday 4th September and Saturday 5th September 2009, will bring together many of the leading names in facial aesthetics including cosmetic dentists, cosmetic dermatologists, aesthetic nurse practitioners, plastic surgeons and cosmetic doctors.

Hamilton Fraser Insurance will be exhibiting at the event to promote their Aesthetic & Cosmetic Professional Liability Insurance Policy. The policy provides extensive cover for aesthetic practitioners at a reduced rate.

Starting from as little as £625 a year aesthetic practitioners will be able to benefit from medical malpractice cover, products liability protection and work away public liability cover. The policy also provides personal accident protection, all under one simple policy contract. This is in addition to the excellent standard features of the current policy including breach of professional confidentiality.

Eddie Hooker, Managing Director of Hamilton Fraser said:

"We are delighted to attend and support the IAAFA annual conference again this year. IAAFA is an all encompassing association that are dedicated to improving the knowledge and skills of facial aesthetics practitioners and championing the need for high standards within the industry."
